

When we fill
a space with works,
we give meaning
to that space.

And when we
walk through art,
we choose our own
sense of coming
and going that's anywhere between a passing glance
and lingering
at length.