

South African Reserve Bank

SARB Public Notice

As of 1 January 2018, the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) branches in East London, Port Elizabeth, Bloemfontein, Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town no longer purchase Krugerrands from the public; exchange mutilated banknotes; or exchange banknotes withdrawn from circulation.

The SARB Head Office in Pretoria Central will continue to service members of the public wanting to sell Krugerrands to the SARB; exchange mutilated banknotes; or exchange banknotes withdrawn from circulation.

Selling of Krugerrands

In addition to the services provided at the SARB Head Office, members of the public wanting to sell Krugerrands in the aforementioned cities can do so through authorised coin dealers, a list of which can be found at: <http://www.samint.co.za/collectable-coins/authorised-dealers/>

Exchange of mutilated banknotes and banknotes withdrawn from circulation

Members of the public wanting to exchange mutilated banknotes and banknotes withdrawn from circulation can do so at selected commercial banks in the aforementioned cities, as well as two Absa branches in Pretoria, from 1 February 2018 onwards. For a list of commercial bank branches assigned to perform these services, visit the SARB website (www.resbank.co.za) or refer to the table below.
