

South African Reserve Bank

SARB Public Notice

Members of the public wanting to sell Krugerrands, exchange mutilated banknotes or exchange banknotes withdrawn from circulation can do so at the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) Head Office in Pretoria (Central Business District).

These services are no longer offered by the SARB in East London, Port Elizabeth, Bloemfontein, Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town, effective 1 January 2018.

In addition to contacting the SARB Head Office, members of the public requiring these services can contact authorised coin dealers or commercial banks, as provided below.

Selling of Krugerrands

Members of the public wanting to sell Krugerrands can do so through authorised coin dealers, a list of which can be found at <http://www.samint.co.za/collectable-coins/authorised-dealers/>

Exchange of mutilated banknotes and banknotes withdrawn from circulation

Members of the public wanting to exchange mutilated banknotes and banknotes withdrawn from circulation can do so at selected commercial banks from 1 February 2018 onwards. For a list of commercial bank branches assigned to perform these services, visit the SARB website (www.resbank.co.za) or refer to the table below.
