

Media release
9 October 2026

The South African Reserve Bank and South African Foreign Exchange Committee launch the FX Global Code Public Register

The South African Reserve Bank (SARB), in collaboration with the South African Foreign Exchange Committee (SAFXC), has launched a Public Register for foreign exchange (FX) market participants to publish their Statements of Commitment (SoCs) to the FX Global Code (fx_global.pdf).

The register provides a central, publicly accessible repository that promotes transparency and broader adoption of the FX Global Code in South Africa and the South African Development Community (SADC) region. It is primarily intended for wholesale FX market participants operating in South Africa. Market participants outside South Africa may formally request inclusion, provided their SoCs comply with standard FX Global Code format (statement of commitment.pdf). The register will be linked to the Global Index of Public Registers.

FX market participants that would like to publish their Statements of Commitment on the SAFXC Public Register may contact the Secretariat of the SAFXC: Lucy.Mabuza@resbank.co.za and Mahlatse.Maraba@resbank.co.za. Further information on the SAFXC is accessible on the SARB website under FX Code Public Register.

Issued by SARB Media Relations media@resbank.co.za

Note to editors

The information contained in the Public Register is provided for general information purposes only and does not constitute financial, legal or other professional advice. Statements of Commitment are submitted voluntarily and inclusion does not imply endorsement, validation, supervision or oversight by the SARB.